

BELL BLOCK SCHOOL NEWSLETTER #20

Friday 28 July 2023

Focus Value:
Tū Māia – Standing Brave

School Goal:
Showing Tū Māia
in the playground

Week 2 has seen some of our students showing Tū Māia – Standing Brave and taking the opportunity to stand on stage and present a performance during the Arts Showcase. I was pleased to see so many students get up and give something a go and although we have had a lot of nervous students, they have done a fantastic job. We now look forward to the grand finale at the Arts Showcase which will culminate our learning in the arts with performances and displays of what the students have created. More information will follow before the Showcase on Thursday 17 August.

Today, at our Celebration Assembly, we welcomed our new Class Councillors from the Middle and Senior teams. These students form the Junior Council and work to develop skills, provide opportunities for students and learn about leadership by running meetings and sharing the ideas from students in their classes. Congratulations and we look forward to working with the Junior Council over the second half of the year.

Let's Go Cycle Skills

Our Intermediate students have been involved with cycle skills training this week. Although the weather hasn't always played its part it was great to see the students growing in confidence while completing the Grade 1 training before taking on Grade 2 next week. There has been a noticeable increase in students biking and scootering to school over the past few weeks which is very positive. Thank you to Mrs Piercy who has co-ordinated this opportunity with the Let's Go team.

Hoops In Schools

We also had players from The Airs basketball team come in to work with a group of students this week. Seeing the improvement in their skills will certainly pose a challenge for our staff in the Staff vs Students basketball game that the Student Leaders are organising for later this term.

Arts Showcase

Well done to everyone who auditioned for the Arts Showcase this week. We had a spectacular number of acts from all of our teams at school. We were amazed by the performances ranging from magic to music, dancing, gymnastics and poetry. The variety was impressive and well done to everyone who took the time to practice their act and perform on stage this week. All acts that will be in the Arts Showcase will be announced next week.
